FAMOUS MURDER CASE. O.J. Simpson always lived life on camera, first as a football star, then as a sportscaster, commercial pitchman and actor. But nothing could have prepared him, or his fans, for the role he would play in 1994. Simpson was suspected in the brutal slashing murder of his ex-wife Nicole and her friend, Ronald Goldman. However, it was his arrest that proved unforgettable. Instead of turning himself in as promised, Simpson had a friend drive him on a rambling jaunt along southern California's freeways in his white Bronco -- as a national audience sat glued to their television sets.

YEAR IN REVIEW

NO SIGNIFICANT STRIDES. If the United States truly had a health care crisis in 1994, you couldn't have proved it by Congress. Despite the exhortations of President Clinton and the First Lady, the year ended without significant health insurance reform. In the absence of a public outcry, there was insufficient support in Congress for the Clinton bill, which called for universal coverage. But the President had promised to veto anything less.

STEVEN TYLER. If rock 'n' roll is here to stay, 1994 made clear Aerosmith is too. The band of bad boys proved that heavy metal need not rust, taking three awards at the 11th annual MTV Music Awards ceremony at Radio Music Hall in New York City.

FREE AT LAST. They headed north on almost anything that would float, including rafts made of the flimsiest materials: oil drums, inner tubes, wooden planks. They were Cuba's boat people -- tens of thousands of them desperate to come to the United States to escape the poverty and hunger of their increasingly isolated island Communist nation. Many were stopped by the U.S. Coast Guard, but receded shortly thereafter. Reversing a 28-year-old policy of granting Cuban asylum, the U.S. agreed to admit at least 20,000 a year.

7.5 ON THE SCALE. Japan's nightmare of a disastrous urban earthquake came true on January 17, 1995, when a powerful quake tore through several western cities, toppling hundreds of buildings, touching off raging fires and killing more than 5,000 people.

WOODSTOCK '94. It rained. Thousands crashed the gates. People with tickets couldn't get in or had to wait for hours. Portable toilets overflowed. Food occasionally ran short. Drugs were everywhere. Woodstock '94 looked a lot like the original 1969 rock festival -- right down to the fans, who wouldn't have missed it for the world.

TIME WILL TELL. Flanked by the relatives of crime victims, President Clinton signed a $30 million crime law, but warned his audience at an elaborate White House ceremony that the bill would not stop the violence plaguing the nation. The law banned many assault firearms, allowed the death penalty for dozens more federal crimes and provided billions of dollars over six years to build prisons and hire police.

UP"SET". Andre Agassi was one of the best known entrants in the 1994 U.S. Open, but a year of largely indifferent tennis had left him unseeded and unheralded. So everyone was amazed when he won the tournament -- including Agassi. His straight set victory over opponent Michael Stich of Germany got him the $550,000 and a trophy.

LONG WAY TO GO. Could the world's greatest basketball player make it on the diamond? That was the question in 1994 when Michael Jordan, in his first year of retirement from the Chicago Bulls, signed a contract to play minor league baseball for the Chicago White Sox.

SUPER BOWL XXIX. The San Francisco 49ers scored early and often on January 29 to defeat the San Diego Chargers 49-26 in a Super Bowl that quickly turned into the rout the experts had predicted. For 49ers quarterback Steve Young, the victory not only put his name in the record book, but allowed him to escape the ghost of his predecessor, Super Bowl hero Joe Montana.

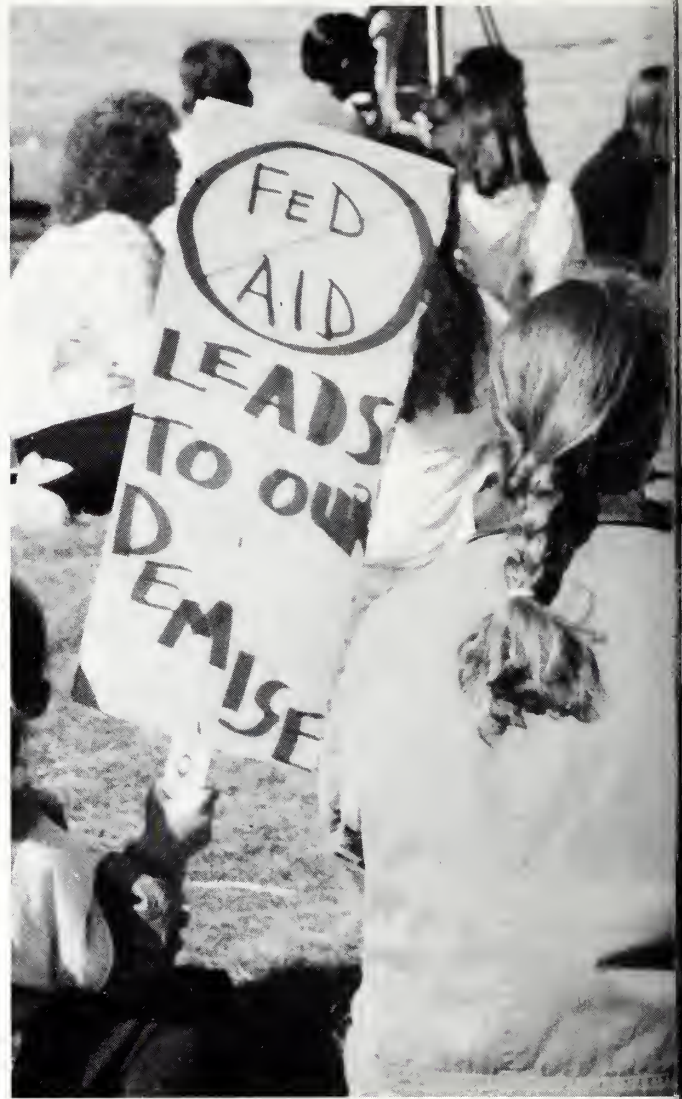

SPACEWALK. A jet-propelled astronaut unhooked his lifelines to the Space Shuttle Discovery and flew free, 150 miles above Earth. It was the first untethered spacewalk in 10 years.

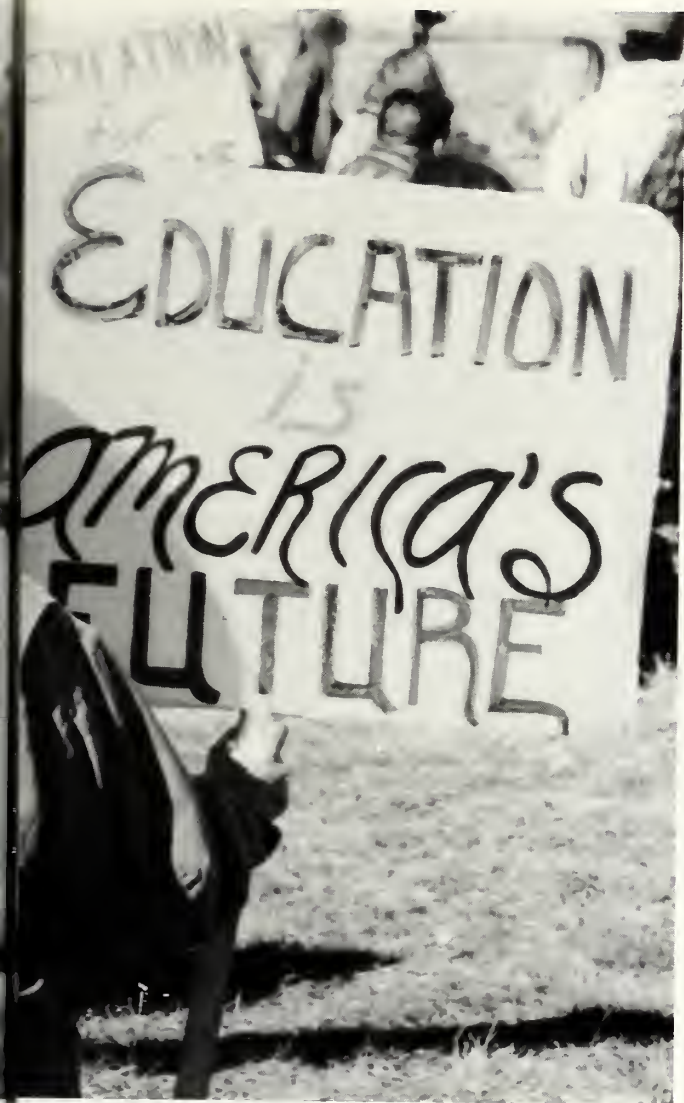

ODD COUPLE. It was a match made in tabloid heaven: the child of one of the two biggest stars in rock history married the other biggest star in rock history. Lisa Marie Presley, Elvis' only child, got hitched to the reclusive Michael Jackson. "And just think," said Michael, "nobody thought this would last."

THERE SHE IS... A deaf woman from Alabama became the first contestant with a disability to win the Miss America Pageant. The 68th Miss America was 21-year-old Heather Whitestone.

ON CAMPUS IN 1994-95

CUT BUREAUCRACY, NOT EDUCATION. Students organized a public forum to send a message to Congress on its idea to slash federal financial aid dollars. The message to Washington D.C. was clear: "Education is a good investment... don't take away our future." The federal government was hoping to trim some of the spending in an effort to bring it more in line with the budget. You can bet the plan did not receive many votes from the American public.

U.S. SECRET SERVICE VISIT. Gordon Heddell, the Deputy Special Agent in Charge of the Vice Presidential Protective Division, came to Rocky as part of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation. Heddell spent much of his visit lecturing classes on the role of the Secret Service, crime and delinquency issues and social justice. He also managed to find time in his busy schedule to meet individually with interested students.

HOOP-LA!

The Rocky Mountain College "Battling Bears" finished their season under second year Head Coach Garry Matlock. The Bears finished with a 20-8 overall record and a 10-6 record which tied them with Montana State University Northern for the regular season title.

The Bears jumped out to an impressive start beating their first six opponents before facing a tough conference series with MSU-Northern. After splitting with their conference foe, the guys then went on to defeat their hometown rival MSU-Billings. The Bears went into Christmas break with an 8-2 overall record. They picked up where they left off after Christmas racking up seven straight victories. The Bears also put themselves in control of the Frontier Conference race with a 6-1 record after sweeping both Montana Tech and Western Montana.

The team, however, hit a rough spot dropping one game to Carroll College and then dropping two to MSU Northern at Havre. Players managed to gain momentum though by defeating the Yellowjackets for the second straight time this season. The team would go on and finish the season tied for first place with MSU Northern with a conference record of 10-6. The Bears were seated second for the conference playoffs against a tough Montana Tech opponent. The Bears struggled against Tech and went on to lose the contest 94-84.

SPORTS SHORT. The season of 1994 was one of promise. The team began with thirteen players during preseason, but as September rolled around it was down to ten. However, these ten players -- a mixture of returners and newcomers -- pushed hard in practice to implement a quicker offense and to prove a better blocking team. The team managed to stay together through injuries and difficult times throughout the season and finished up with a conference record of 3-5, tied for third in the standings with Northern Montana College.

The Men's Ski Team finished 4th at nationals which were held in McCall, Idaho, and the Women's Ski Team finished in 5th place. This is the first time in which both of Rocky's ski teams went to nationals in the same year.

Three All-Americans: Jennifer King, Corbyn Thorsen and Beau Jarvis

Mission Statement

Rocky Mountain College is a diverse community of learners working together to better understand who we are and how to live. Our responsibility is to educate ourselves and the everchanging larger community, recognizing the importance of the liberal arts as the foundation of all learning for academic, professional, and life-long development.

As a college founded in the Christian tradition, we seek to understand that tradition in an open and non-sectarian way, upholding the importance of one's own beliefs with respect for and fair consideration of others' beliefs. As a college in the Mountain West, we seek to understand the history and environment of the larger world.

We value the diversity and the interrelatedness of knowledge, the importance of rational inquiry and open discussion, and the interdependence of all life.

We believe individual success is characterized not only by independent and creative thought, but also by evidence of an ethical commitment to others. Rocky Mountain College seeks to prepare students to act responsibly as members of an academically, socially, economically, ecologically, and spiritually interconnected world.

Thanks to all who contributed time and effort into this yearbook.
